The Silver Backed Gorilla

A silverback is an adult male gorilla, typically more than 12 years of age and named for the distinctive patch of silver hair on his back.

A silverback gorilla has large canine teeth that come with maturity.

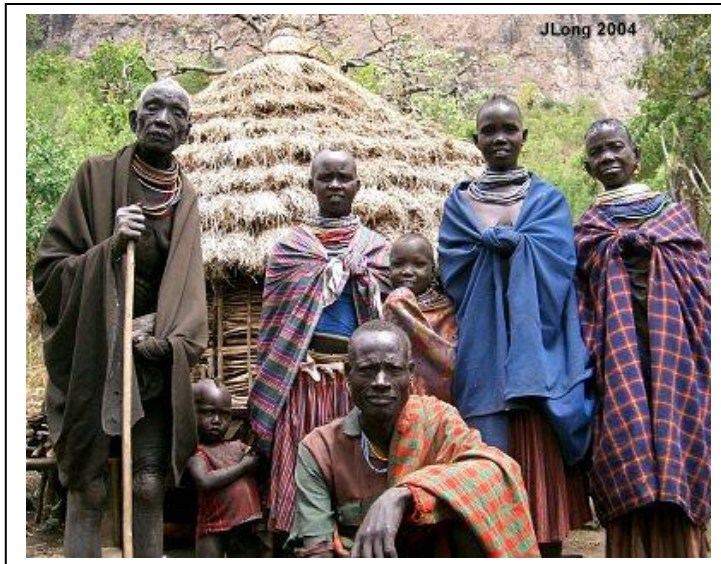

Blackbacks are sexually mature males of up to 11 years of age.

Gorillas are the largest of the world's living primates.

They are ground-dwelling and predominantly herbivorous and move around by knuckle-walking.

If challenged by a younger or even by an outsider male, a silverback will scream, beat his chest, break branches, bare his teeth, then charge forward. Sometimes a younger male in the group can take over leadership from an old male.

Visiting them is one of the most emotional wildlife encounters you will ever experience !

DAY 12nd July 2011UGANDA

Uganda takes its name from the Buganda kingdom, which encompassed a portion of the south of the country including the capital Kampala.

The inhabitants of Uganda were hunter-gatherers until 1,700 to 2,300 years ago.

Nilotic people including Luo and Ateker entered the area from the north, probably beginning about A.D. 120.

Arab traders moved inland from the Indian Ocean coast of East Africa in the 1830s. They were followed in the 1860s by British explorers searching for the source of the Nile. Protestant missionaries entered the country in 1877, followed by Catholic missionaries in 1879.

The United Kingdom placed the area under the charter of the British East Africa Company in 1888, and ruled it as a protectorate from 1894.

As several other territories and chiefdoms were integrated, the final protectorate called Uganda took shape in 1914.

DAY 1

After breakfast, we depart for a half day drive west via Mubende to Fort Portal.

We pass through verdant countryside and traditional homesteads and farms where every imaginable fruit and vegetable of the tropics thrives.

At Kibale, we visit the craters and thereafter, we check-in at the luxury tented lodge.

Relax in the evening and have dinner at the lodge.

DAY 23rd July 2011

After breakfast we go for an exciting rainforest walk and view primates (including chimps)

This recently established reserve is home to the most diverse and the highest concentration of primates in all of Africa !

There are 11 species of primates located here including:

Red Colobus Monkey
Black-and-White Colobus Monkey
Red-tail Monkey
L'hoest's Monkey
Blue Monkey
Mangabey and Olive Baboons

The main attraction, however, are the 500 chimpanzees which we may find throughout the huge fig trees where they spend the day feeding on the sweet ripe fruits.

After our unforgettable experience in Kibale we drive on to the Queen Elizabeth National Park

Overnight
Queen Elizabeth National Park

History of the Constitution

The constitution was amended in 1963 to satisfy an alliance between the Uganda People's Congress and the Kabaka Yekka Party, during the elections in 1962. This created a post of a titular Head of State called the President and a position of a Vice President. The UPC government appointed Edward Muteesa II, Kabaka (King) of Buganda, as the President and Commander in Chief of the armed forces. William Wilberforce Nadiope, the Kyabazingo of Busoga (paramount chief), was appointed Vice President.

In 1966, Milton Obote overthrew the king. A UPC-dominated Parliament changed the constitution, and Obote became president.

The elections were suspended, ushering in an era of military coups and counter-coups, which would last until the mid-1980s. Obote was deposed twice from office, both times by military coups.

DAY 45th July 2011

After breakfast this morning take a forest walk in the Kyambura Gorge (optional) which marks the north-eastern boundary of Queen Elizabeth National Park.

The gorge appears suddenly in hills of rolling savanna to reveal a deep slice of tropical rain forest containing a wealth of primate species.

Thereafter, we head to Ishasha in search for tree climbing Lions. We have a picnic lunch and then proceed to the Bwindi National Park

Overnight
Bwindi Impenetrable Forest National Park

Mweya Hostel (basic with self-catering rooms)
Or Katara Lodge (www.kataralodge.com) or Jacana Safari Lodge (www.geolodgesafrica.com) or Mweya Safari Lodge (www.mweyalodge.com)

The Bwindi Impenetrable Forest

In the jungles of Bwindi Impenetrable Forest live half the world's population of highly endangered Mountain Gorillas. There are only an estimated 700 left.

This pocket of huge primeval forest in the Virunga Mountain range is one of the most biologically diverse areas on earth.

*It has an eco-system that defines the very essence of the continent and has therefore been designated as a World Heritage Site.

DAY 56th July 2011

Up relatively early for a hearty breakfast to give ourselves the energy needed for gorilla trekking !

Before 8:00 am, we report to the ranger station for registration and a preparation talk by one of the rangers; the guides will then take us through the bush, pushing our way through the undergrowth, parting thick creepers, to trek to the gorillas.

Sit in the forest among the gorillas, listening to them grumble to each other, and marvel at the sheer size of the dominant male; the silverback.

It is an extraordinary feeling sitting in the dense rainforest knowing we are with a few of the last remaining mountain gorillas.

If we have the energy in the afternoon, we will take a guided walk on the Munyaga River trail.

This trail leads to three delightful crystal clear waterfalls, and there is a profusion of tree ferns, epiphytic ferns, orchids and Bwindi's colorful array of butterflies.

Here we may also see birds (Uganda has over 1,000 varieties) and primates right from the forest edge.

The Pygmies of Africa

Although not listed here in the itinerary – we will be visiting a social development project for the pygmies – probably on day 5.

Throughout history, Africa has been blighted by colonisation, natural disasters and political unrest. Floods, hurricanes, droughts, famine and civil war stretch back centuries.

Persecuted during the Congolese Civil war, the pygmies were hunted and cannibalised. This together with their forced eviction from their traditional forest homes has reduced their population by 30 per cent, and today, in consequence, they are seriously marginalised.

	Cost:
Adults:	Luxury	US$ 2,472
	Budget	US$ 1,780
Children:	No children under 15 years

Prices are subject to change at short notice. Please confirm prices when booking.
All packages are offered on a per person sharing basis and subject to availability.
We try and place you with someone similar to you, however you may choose someone else or swap en route.
The tour needs a minimum of 5 people to run.

Whereas Inkosi Africa Tours Safaris present itineraries in good faith, however it is in the nature of a safari, or travelling in Africa that for reasons beyond its control, not all aspects of an itinerary may be available at the time the safari/tour takes place. Should this be the case, Inkosi Africa will in its discretion replace certain items, venues or routes with those of a similar or equal nature.

This is Africa and things can, and sometimes do, happen unexpectedly on safari - consider it all part of the adventure !
