

Don't Forget What You Just Learned!

As soon as you leave here the enemy is going to work very hard at getting you to forget what you have learned and any decisions you have made. He will make many attempts to distract. So how do we make sure we don't forget? How do we make sure we use what God has given us?

1. Get your notes out of the folder, notebook, notepad, etc...Otherwise your notes will get put on a shelf or filed away never to be read or looked at again.
2. Next 14-24 hours, go through the materials from this conference. Somehow find a block of time that you can just review everything you have learned. Ask yourself these questions: What did God say to me this weekend/today? What is the one thing that kept coming to the surface? What is God asking me to do, to change? Note: Obedience equals maturity, not knowledge.
3. Make a decision that is lasting. This will require a strategy, a plan. What is the plan for the next 10 days.
4. Break apart your notes and make a decision to use them as your quiet time for the next week or more. Meditate, do additional research, pray. Ask God to reveal His truth.
5. Find an accountability partner who knows the plan you have made based on what you have learned. Someone that will be there to help you and pray for you. Note: Its best to have your accountability partner be the same sex as you. You may also have a group follow-up from the conference.
6. After 10 days or so, review the past week. Make notes of what you have learned above all. What do you see has changed? Make a commitment to check back ever so often to see where God has brought you.
